Skills & Qualities

Highlight those that best prepare you to be a Board Member

Firstly, I believe my administrative roles in all school levels, including central office, brings invaluable perspective and experience to this position in PSAANS. I can speak to, and have perspective on, almost all facets of administrative issues. I have strong communication skills, both written and oral, and work extremely well with others. My wide range of volunteer commitments also speaks to my desire to effect change and be a proactive participant in society in general. I enjoy the challenge of new experiences and look forward to being considered for this opportunity.

Final thoughts

In these uncertain and stressful times, I feel that a strong voice for administrators is more important than ever. We need to ensure that we create the best environments for learning, while being sensitive to the demands and stress placed upon school administration. The general public does not fully understand many of the issues we face, so we need to have a united, coherent and succinct voice that properly represents the concerns of all our members. I know I can help contribute to the environment that creates that unified voice.
